TRIAL of Mr. Davis .- It seems to be generally understood among those who ought to know that Mr. Davis will cervenire of sixty men has been ordered.

SUITS AGAINST ANTE-BELLUM POSTMASmonth, suits have been instituted against him. nearly one hundred of the delinquents. Among these we notice the name of Colonel Thomas P. Bigger, late postmaster of arrested yesterday for snatching a pocket-Richmond, whose liabilities to the Govern-book containing sixty cents from the hand ment amount to nearly $13,000, and the of a negro man. Government has even gone so far as to attach his property and that of his sure-Allen, both of this city. It certainly seems unfair that these gentlemen should be made to suffer, when the funds were taken by authority of the Confederate of the postmaster.

GOOD FRIDAY .- Yesterday was Thursday of Holy Week, sometimes termed Maundy-Thursday, or the day of the manset apart to commemorate the crucifixion of Jesus. In the Catholic Church, upon this day, the Tenebræ is celebrated in commemoration of the darkness attending the crucifixion. Fourteen yellow candles, representing the Virgin, the Apostles, and scarcity of money. the women, are lighted; fourteen psalms are chanted, and at the end of each a candle is extinguished; after which, darkness and silence reign. At St. Peter's, Rome, the hundred lamps on the tomb of the Apostle are put out, and an immense illuminated cross hangs, as if self-dependent, from the dome. In England, Good Friday and Christmas are the only close holidays of the year, when the shops are all closed and the churches opened. In Ireland, it was once a rule on Good Friday to starve infants and exhibit public signs of woe. In Spain. they hold obsequies, in which the death and burial of Jesus are represented, and to which they used to add the execution of Judas. But in all countries most of these eccentric customs have waned. The day is observed in the Greek, Roman, Anglican, and Episcopal Churches as a solemn period of prayer, and often of fasting. Good Friday is followed by Easter Even, the last day of Lent. It is a vigil. The first Easter Even was a High Sabbath; now it is but a Saturday, upon which, in quiet and sadness, are held the concluding services of Lent. In Rome, they baptize two Jews upon this day, and have other interesting ceremonies, of which our limited space will not allow a description. ATTEMPT TO BREAK JAIL .- Three negroes confined in a cell at the lower stationhouse attempted to escape on Wednesday night by making a hole through the brick wall. Had the work been finished, they would have made their way out on the market-house roof, and thence to the MYSTERIOUS DISAPPEARANCE.-Mrs. Maria Garabaldia, an old lady, who has been residing with Mr. Joseph Ghio, at 1605 Franklin street, near Shockoe creek, mysteriously disappeared on Monday last, and has not since been heard of. She is nearly eighty years of age, and supposed to be in her dotage. When she left home she wore a blue jacket, apron made of checked ticking, and a black hood. Information concerning her whereabouts would be thankfully received by Mr. Ghio.

WARDWELL DON'T DENY IT .- It will be remembered that B. Wardwell's name appeared in the list of members of the committee sent to Washington by the Hunnicutters a few days ago. Several of the persons mentioned were quick to make a denial, but Wardwell says he won't. He proposes to report his success at the next meeting at Republican headquarters.

PROFESSOR APPOINTED .- Dr. John Spotswood Welford has been chosen to fill the chair of Materia Medica and Therapeutics at the Medical College, vacated by the resignation of Dr. B. R. Welford. The latter was honored by the Board with the degree of Emeritus Professor.

EXECUTIVE .- Governor Wells appointed, yesterday, Sydney T. Fontaine commissioner of deeds for Virginia in the State of Texas. This is the first official act of General Schofield's appointee.
